

Job Title: Student Graphic Designer

Seeking a student graphic designer to help tell the story of the Institute for Emerging Issues, a nonpartisan think-and-do public policy organization located on Centennial Campus. The candidate will help engage and inform North Carolinians about our work through the creation of on-brand visuals for print and digital materials. One of the main uses of graphics will be to promote the Emerging Issues Forum, which attracts key leaders in business, public policy, nonprofit, education and other sectors.

Requirements and skills:

- Graphic design student at NC State preferred
- A strong portfolio of graphic design work
- Familiarity with design software and technologies (such as Adobe InDesign, Illustrator and Photoshop)
- Ability to prioritize and meet deadlines
- Detail oriented
- Familiarity with NC State University branding is a plus. The right candidate will be trained in IEI branding.

Anticipated start date: ASAP

Anticipated end date: April 24, 2023

Pay rate: $12/hour

Apply on NCSU's ePACK system by searching for the job title "Student Graphic Designer" — or send a cover letter and resume to Communications Director Jennifer Heiss at jgheiss@ncsu.edu.