

Job Posting: Communications Intern

The Institute for Emerging Issues (IEI) at NC State University is seeking a student to join the Communications and Marketing team as a communications intern for the 2024-2025 academic year. This position will help tell the story of IEI, a nonpartisan policy organization located on Centennial Campus that brings people together across differences to address issues impacting North Carolina. The communications intern will help develop social media campaigns, write stories, assist with events and more.

Requirements and skills:

- Communications, Marketing or Public Policy student at NC State preferred
- Experience researching topics, interviewing subjects and writing stories
- Ability to prioritize and meet deadlines
- Detail oriented

Anticipated start date: September 2, 2024

Anticipated end date: April 30, 2025

Pay rate: $15/hour

Send a cover letter, resume and a writing or multimedia sample to IEI Communications Director Jennifer Heiss at jgheiss@ncsu.edu.